25X1 1. On 26 March 1952, the Pionier Kaserne on Gartenstrasse, Fuerstenwalde (N 53/V 33), was occupied by about 1,000 troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery or tank insignia, and black-bordered black epaulets. Trucks occupied to capacity by soldiers, drove into the installation. 25X1

25X1 2. On 26 March, the barracks installation on Braunsdorferstrasse was occupied by about 1,700 troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets with artillery or tank insignia. Vehicles observed at the installation 25X1

25X1 3. On 21 March, a column of 2 trucks towing mortars, 2 radio trucks, 1 amphibious car and 1 sedan, came from the direction of Beeskow (N 53/V 41) and drove toward Fuerstenwalde via Langewahl. 25X1

4. Except for some guards and soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets, there were no troops at the Fliegerhorst Kaserne in Fuerstenwalde-Waldfrieden prior to 4 March. Three 85-mm AA guns were observed near the gun sheds for the first time on 7 March, and 4 x 85-mm AA guns at the same place on 12 March. From 12 to 25 March, the installation was occupied by about 60 soldiers. Only some of the quarters were lighted after dusk. Vehicles observed at the Fliegerhorst Kaserne 25X1

5. On 14 March, about 40 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets were practicing with submachine guns and receiving instruction on a range finder in the Pionier Kaserne on Gartenstrasse, Fuerstenwalde. Maintenance work was done on an SP gun in the barracks yard. On 18 March, about 60 soldiers received training in rifle firing at squad level and practiced aiming from a sidecar motorcycle. An armored car mounting two machine guns was parked in the barracks yard. On 25 March, about 30 soldiers were engaged in drill with 4 x 57-mm AT guns, about 10 soldiers with 2 x 120-mm mortars, and about 25 soldiers with submachine guns. T-34/85 tank was standing between the garages. Three T-34/85 tanks, and 1 JS tank were observed on the training area engaged in firing and aiming at practice targets. Practice firing at aiming targets with submachine guns was also 25X1 25X1

6. On 25 March, the barracks installation on Braunsdorferstrasse, Fuerstenwalde, was occupied by about 200 troops. Two JS tanks were parked in the barracks yard. Several groups of soldiers received telephone and radio training in the barracks yard and on the adjoining training area. Vehicles observed at the installation [redacted]

7. On 5 March, a 15-piece band was observed rehearsing at the barracks installation on Braunsdorferstrasse. About 15 soldiers practiced with two model ZIS-3 76.2-mm field guns on the adjoining training area. About 60 soldiers in prone position without vests were engaged in advance combat firing with rifles at aiming targets on 100 meters and at aiming silhouettes on 150 meters.

8. On 5 March, three T-34/85 tanks, [redacted] practiced driving on the Neuendorf training ground. They drove later toward the Pionier Kaserne.

9. On 5 March, three heavy AA guns were parked in front of the gun sheds in the Fliegerhorst Kaserne, Fuerstenwalde-Waldfrieden. There was no vehicular traffic or training activity.

10. On 5 March, 35 caterpillar tractors, [redacted] were observed at the premises of the factory on Berlinerstrasse, south of the Aufbauschule (high school), Fuerstenwalde. Noise of drilling machines was heard from a large workshop. Several groups of 10 to 15 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets marched from the factory premises to the Aufbauschule or toward Fuerstenwalde. About 20 trucks, apparently ready for inspection, were standing in the yard of the Aufbauschule. (1)

12. On 24 March, the barracks installation on Braunsdorferstrasse was occupied by about 1,500 troops. Guards wore red-bordered black epaulets. On 20, 21 and 22 March, physical training was observed in the morning, and field training on the near training area during the afternoon. On 24 March, a general inspected a mixed unit of 120 men with light machine guns and rifles, 40 men with six 57-mm AT guns, 80-mm mortars and three T-34/85 tanks at the training area. The unit made a practice attack with live ammunition, with the tanks firing at concrete blocks [redacted]

[redacted] Comments.

(1) The observations in paragraphs 1 through 10 and 12 through 16 confirm the absence from Fuerstenwalde of the components belonging to the unidentified AAA division of the Fourth Gds Mecz Army until 25 March 1952.

[redacted] The occupation of the Pionier Kaserne, as mentioned in the present report, was previously known. In addition, however, the observations in paragraphs 5 and 13 indicate that the 5th Gds Mtrcl Bn of the 7th Gds Mecz Div, which was vaguely believed to be stationed in the Pionier Kaserne, can definitely be carried there until 23 March 1952.

[redacted] The 122d (?) Gds Eng Bn of the 7th Gds Mecz Div which had been identified in the present report for the first time after the fall of 1951, is also assumed located in the Pionier Kaserne. The column mentioned in paragraph 3 probably belongs to the 468th Gds Mort Regt of the 7th Gds Mecz Div in Beeskow.
